Girl gangraped on Gopalpur beach

Cops detain, interrogate seven accused; three still at large

POST NEWS NETWORK

Gopalpur/Berhampur, June 16: A college girl was allegedly gangraped by 10 youths in front of her male friend on Gopalpur beach in Ganjam district Sunday evening, raising concern over safety of visitors at one of the most attractive tourist destinations in the state.

The survivor and her male friend have lodged a complaint at Gopalpur police station. Acting on the complaint, police have detained seven persons from the beach area and are questioning them. Prima facie, 10 youths are involved in the heinous crime.

Berhampur SP Saravana Vivek M reached the police station and conducted a probe Monday. A DSP-rank woman officer has been directed to conduct a proper investigation into the matter. The SP accompanied by a scientific team, Gopalpur IIC and the male friend of the survivor visited the spot and conducted a probe into the matter Monday evening.

According to the complaint, the survivor is a resident of a different district and studying in a local government college.

The incident occurred when she, along with her male friend, visited Gopalpur sea beach. They were sitting at a secluded place on the beach Sunday evening when 10 youths on three bikes reached there and started assaulting the male friend.

Some of the youths captured her friend while others picked up the girl and took turns to rape her.

Later, they threatened her friend and forced him to pay them money through PhonePe. The survivor and her friend reached the police station and lodged a complaint of gangrape. Police raided various places before picking up seven youths. The accused were found to be students of a local college. A special team has been formed to track down the three absconding accused.

Notably, this is third incident of rape during last six months under Golanthara and Gopalpur police limits. A 4-year-old girl was raped inside a bus under Gopalpur police limits in January. The driver and helper of the bus were arrested in this connection and the matter is now sub-judice in the court.

Similarly, two minor cousins were gangraped under Golanthara police limits June 3. Four youths were arrested in this connection. Locals attribute the rise in such crimes to lack of proper patrolling in beach area.

First caste census post Independence

India is set to conduct its first caste-based enumeration since Independence, as the Union government Monday issued a notification for the 16th national census. This marks the first time since 1947 that caste data will be officially collected during a census. The last comprehensive caste-based census was carried out by the British between 1881 and 1931. Since then, caste has been excluded from post-Independence census operations. This large-scale demographic exercise—taking place after a 16-year gap—is expected to cost the Union government over ₹13,000 crore. Approximately 34 lakh enumerators and supervisors, supported by around 1.3 lakh census officials equipped with digital devices, will carry out the data collection

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

FATF condemns Pahalgam attack

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 16: Condemning the brutal Pahalgam terror attack in April, global watchdog Financial Action Task Force (FATF) Monday said it has enhanced its focus on the steps that the countries have taken to combat terror financing, and will soon release a report on terror financing cases, including state-sponsored terrorism.

The rare condemnation by FATF shows that the 'international community has felt the severity of the attack', which killed 26 people at Pahalgam in Jammu & Kashmir, April 22, 2025, and spotlights that such attacks will not go unpunished, sources said, adding the terror attack was done by Pakistan-trained terrorists.

"Terrorist attacks kill, maim and inspire fear around the world. FATF notes with grave concern and condemns the brutal terrorist attack in Pahalgam April 22, 2025. This, and other recent attacks, could not occur without money and the means to move funds between terrorist supporters," the FATF said in a statement.

CM: 73,346 bagged govt jobs in 1 year

POST NEWS NETWORK

Bhubaneswar, June 16: Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi Monday said his government has facilitated employment for 73,346 youths in just 369 days since taking office.

Speaking at the 'Nijukti Me-la' (employment fair), where appointment letters were distributed to 964 newly recruited youths, mostly junior engineers, Majhi said, "Our government is only one year and four days old. In this short span, we have appointed 73,346 youths — 28,346 in government departments and 45,000 in the private sector."

Underlining the importance of government jobs, Majhi said he and his ministers failed to bag government jobs and therefore opted for other professions like politics. However, the newly recruited youths are lucky to get absorbed in the government sector, he said. "People have an obsession with government jobs. This is clearly shown in the Hindi film 'Nayak', where the heroine's father refuses to marry her off to a journalist and insists on a government servant. That reflects how highly people value government jobs," Majhi told the gathering. MORE P3

50 yrs of croc conservation: Odisha tops in recovery

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Kendrapara, June 16: As the Crocodile Conservation Programme (CCP) in India is all set to observe its 50th anniversary (Tuesday) June 17, which is also observed as World Crocodile Day, Odisha, the only state to house all three species of crocodiles, finds itself in a proud place in implementing the reported most successful conservation project of saltwater crocodiles.

Before the Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972, came to be implemented, people used to kill the reptile freely for commercial purposes. The scenario changed when the state launched the conservation programmes for all three species — gharial, mugger and estuarine crocodiles — in 1975, which no other state did five decades back, according to a researcher associated with the project. While Bhitarkanika National Park is home to 1,826 saltwater crocodiles, Satkosia Gorge is the abode of 16 gharials as per the census report of January 2025. Around 300 muggers live in the rivers of the state, an official said.

The conservation programme of saltwater crocodiles, facing extinction five decades back, at Bhitarkanika National Park has turned out to be the most successful one in the country.

Bhitarkanika is home to nearly 70% of India's estuarine crocodile or saltwater crocodiles, said researcher Sudhakar Kar.

Kar was earlier officiated as the research officer in the Forest department.

"This crocodilian species is also found in Andaman and Nicobar Islands and the Sundarbans in West Bengal. But its population in these pockets is considerably on a lesser scale. The saltwater crocodile population in Bhitarkanika and adjoining river systems has increased manifold from 96 in 1975 to 1826 in 2025," the researcher said.

About one-third of the population comes under the adult or subadult category. Therefore, it augurs well for further growth of reptiles' population, he said. Overall, the recovery of the species which were threatened to say the least has been on an impressive scale in general and in saltwater crocodiles in particular, Kar opined.

The success of the crocodile recovery project is principally due to the protection of their habitat and the mangrove forest stretches being conferred the status of wildlife sanctuary and national park.

With the habitat coming under the protection of the Forest department under the Wildlife Sanctuary Protection Act, human interference in the river system and mangrove forest was proclaimed illegal, ensuring a safe and congenial habitat for the crocodiles, the researcher said.

As part of CCP, "rear and release" technique was adopted by collecting eggs from nests in the wild and breeding them in the crocodile hatchery, artificially.

The Forest department is sensitive towards human plight. It has erected bamboo barricades in more than 150 bathing ghats to prevent crocodiles from attacking humans, officials said.

"It is only during the rainy season when human-crocodile conflict takes place in some places. We sound alert during this period in Bhitarkanika National Park jurisdiction," the Assistant Conservator of Forest, Rajnagar Mangrove (forest) Division Manas Das, said.

I do not believe in cheat days: Krishna

MUMBAI: Unlike many other fitness influencers, fitness icon Krishna Shroff does not believe in the concept of cheat meals, and her reasoning seems very clear. During her fitness journey, the entrepreneur has evolved from enjoying her cheat meals to now embracing a more intuitive eating style.

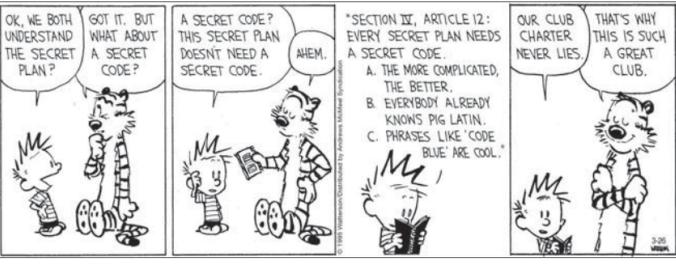

According to Krishna, having cheat meals takes her a couple of steps back from her progress. She shared, "I don't have cheat meal days. When I first started my fitness journey I definitely did follow that rule where I would have one cheat meal a week. But now that I'm a little further along in my fitness journey, I actually realized that for me, it kind of backtracks me and takes me a couple of steps back from my progress. So what I prefer to do is just incorporate all my favorite foods in my diet plan. I wouldn't even say diet because I'm not really dieting. I'm kind of just into intuitively eating and that comes with practice."

Revealing her mindset behind this approach, Krishna added, "So the more experience you have in this field and throughout this process, the more you'd be able to do it that way too. So for me, I love to incorporate my favorite foods in my diet, and that way I don't really have that craving to binge and then feel like I've been backtracked"

Cong reminds state govt of 'unfulfilled' promises

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 16: Allying that the 'double engine' government has 'looted' Odisha and played with its identity, the Congress Monday reminded the BJP government of 'unfulfilled' promises.

As the BJP government in Odisha completed its one year June 12, the Opposition party said it had no right to celebrate when under its rule the public is troubled, farmers are in distress and there is unemployment in the state. Addressing a press conference at the Congress' Indira Bhawan headquarters here, Odisha Congress chief Bhakta Charan Das said the country is going through a difficult time these days with many incidents happening, and Odisha is also facing many calamities.

"At such a time, people are expecting the state and Central governments to support them, but both governments are busy celebrating. The BJP government of Odisha had made some promises to the people before the elections, which we want to remind them, like - zero tolerance for corruption," he said.

Das claimed that the truth is that many cases of corruption have come to light in the recent past.

"A chief engineer was found to have many properties and crores of rupees in cash. An ED officer was caught by the CBI. An IAS officer was caught, and cash worth lakhs was recovered. The question is where did this money come from?" Das said.

"The BJP government had said that under the Subhadra scheme, women will be given Rs 50,000, which they can spend in two years, but the truth is that the government is giving only Rs 5,000 in two instalments in a year," he claimed. The country is immersed in grief and the BJP government in Odisha is celebrating from June 12 to June 20, he said.

"The condition of health facilities in Odisha is worse, posts are lying vacant in almost all the districts of the state, there is not even one doctor for a population of 12,000, Ayushman cards are being rejected in many hospitals of the state and people are forced to get treatment in private hospitals," Das said.

Congress Legislature Party leader in Odisha Rama Chandra Kadam drew attention to the promises made by the BJP to the tribal people. "The BJP had made a promise regarding the PESA Act, but the truth is that the houses of tribal people were demolished. In tribal areas, they are being harassed to grab water, forest and land," he said. "The BJP had promised to make ASHAs permanent, give Rs 12,000 to Anganwadi workers and give electric scooters to girl students, but these promises had not been fulfilled till date," he said.

Cholera in endemic stage: Central team

PNN & AGENCIES

Jajpur, June 16: Jajpur/Bhubaneswar, June 16: A Central team, after inspecting diarrhoea and cholera-hit areas in Jajpur, Monday said that cholera was at an endemic stage in the district.

"There is no cholera outbreak in the district; it is endemic with just a little surge in cases," Shibani, Lahiri, a member of the Central team, told reporters here. "We have seen an outbreak of diarrhoeal diseases. We have given suggestions to the state on water safety, food safety, maintenance of personal hygiene and awareness creation," she said.

The state government has already started distributing medicines in the affected areas and the maximum of the patients have been managed, Lahiri said.

Bhagirathi Diwedi, another member of the Central team, said that it was confirmed from laboratory test reports that cholera cases have been detected in the district. The state authority is monitoring the caseload, he said. "We are holding discussions with the officers concerned of Odisha and giving necessary suggestions," he said.

The 14-member Central team visited Jajpur district Sunday and held a meeting with the district administration. The team is also likely to visit some other districts, where diarrhoea cases have been reported. On the other hand, state Health Secretary Aswathi S and Special Secretary Bijay Kumar Mohapatra again visited the district Monday and conducted a review of the situation and preventive measures taken to control the disease.

The caseload has decreased and a few patients with mild symptoms have been admitted to hospitals Sunday and Monday, Aswathi said.

District Collector P Anvesha Reddy said that about 260 diarrhoea patients are under treatment in different health facilities in the district. "We are now giving emphasis to disinfection, personal hygiene and awareness campaigns," she said.

Chief District Medical Officer (CDMO) Bijay Mishra claimed that the in-patient flow to the hospitals has come down Monday.

As of the time of reporting, 256 patients were undergoing treatment for diarrhoea across vari-

Two more persons died of diarrhoea in Jajpur district even as the 14-member central health team confirmed the presence of cholera in the affected areas, Monday. The deceased were identified as Basanta Barik, 42, of Bairimala village and Nanda Jena, 60, of Sarangpur village under Sukinda block. Barik died while undergoing treatment at SCB Medical College and Hospital in Cuttack while Jena succumbed at the Danagadi Community Health Centre. With this, the total death toll has gone up to 18.

Violations will attract legal action, officials warned.

Public awareness campaigns have been launched to promote preventive measures. The district administration has urged residents to drink boiled water, wash hands before meals and food preparation, and always after using the toilet. It also advised people to use toilets and consume properly cooked food to avoid diarrhoea and cholera infections.

Community gatherings, including weddings, birthdays, religious rituals, and feasts, have also been discouraged, they said.

Apart from Jajpur, diarrhoea cases have been reported in Tangi and Choudwar areas in Cuttack district, Bhuban NAC in Dhenkanal district, Aul block of Kendrapara district, Bhandaripokhari and Dhamnagar areas in Bhadrak district, and Anandapur in Keonjhar district, officials said.

Construction near Tampara Ramsar site under NGT lens

Encroachments yet to be removed; next hearing scheduled for August 6

POST NEWS NETWORK

Chhatrapur, June 16: Construction of hotels, restaurants and resorts which allegedly encroached upon the ecologically sensitive Tampara Lake, a Ramsar site near here in Ganjam district, has come to a halt following an order by the National Green Tribunal (NGT) in Kolkata.

The eastern zone bench of the tribunal in Kolkata had ordered a halt to all construction activities and scheduled the next date of hearing to August 6. However, many of the constructions are yet to be demolished despite the order of the tribunal.

During an earlier hearing April 3, the state government failed to submit its factual report and sought four weeks' time, which was granted and the hearing rescheduled to May 23. Since the report was submitted May 22, the tribunal further deferred the hearing to August 6.

The matter came up before the tribunal after the Cuttack-based Wildlife Society filed a petition August 3, 2023, alleging that the lake area was being encroached upon in violation of environmental norms. A case (88/23) under the Environment Protection Act, 1986, was registered in August 8, 2023.

The tribunal heard the matter August 11 and issued notices to 13 respondents, including the Union Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change, the state Chief Secretary, Additional Secretary of Forest and Environment department, Ganjam Collector, Berhampur Development Authority, and the Berhampur DFO, directing them to respond within four weeks. Subsequently, all construction around Tampara Lake was stopped from August 12, 2023.

Subsequently a high-level committee was formed to assess the situation, September 5, 2023. After visiting the site September 22, the Ganjam Collector submitted a factual report to the NGT September 25, 2023, but no action had been initiated to demolish the construction. Consequently, the NGT directed the Collector July 16, 2024, to submit a personal affidavit within four weeks outlining the steps taken to remove the illegal structures.

Notably, Tampara Lake was declared a Ramsar site September 12, 2021, recognising its international ecological significance.

Lone family remains in village abandoned due to govt neglect

POST NEWS NETWORK

Keonjhar, June 16: In the heart of Keonjhar district, a once-thriving village has faded into near oblivion, with only one family left behind as others fled years of administrative neglect.

Tankagadia, a small village under Gedama panchayat in Hatadihi block, was home to around 10 to 12 families just 25 years ago. Today, it shelters only Krushna Chandra Das and his family. Das lives with his four sons — Dinabandhu, Jagabandhu, Krupasindhu and Sukanta — and their family members, the last residents of a place long abandoned by both its people and the government.

Residents had spent years appealing to local authorities for essential amenities such as a motorable road, clean drinking water and electricity. But repeated pleas were met with silence. Frustrated and left without hope, families of Subhash Jena, Yudhisthir Biswal, Krushna Biswal, Kunia Biswal, Bharat Biswal, Dharani Mohanty, and Babaji Das gradually moved away, settling in nearby Gedama and Mudulisahi.

In 2012, the district administration declared Tankagadia as an 'Adarsh Gram', or model village, a designation meant to bring holistic development to rural communities. Officials visited the village, held public meetings, and promised transformation. Yet nothing changed.

"No road was built. No electric poles came up. The tube well is now broken, and we fetch drinking water from far away," said Subashini Das, Krushna Chandra's daughter-in-law. "During the rainy season, we are completely cut off. Our children struggle to attend school, and if someone falls sick, reaching a hospital is nearly impossible."

The family is forced to walk across uneven hilly terrain or tread narrow farmland levees to reach nearby habitations. With no road connectivity, their link to the outside world remains as fragile as their hope.

Former sarpanch Narahari Chakra, who served during the village's recognition as a revenue village in 2007-08, said Tankagadia was once earmarked for development. "After the village was declared a model village in 2012, the then sub-collector assured us that all basic amenities would be provided. But the administration soon lost interest," he said.

Anand Mohanty, another former sarpanch, blamed land disputes for the lack of progress. "Many villagers owned ancestral land along the proposed road route. With no agreement on land acquisition, the project stalled," he said.

The Das family now lives in isolation, with no immediate neighbours, no health services, no functioning infrastructure — and little sign of change. The silence from authorities over the years has become deafening.

When contacted, Hatadihi Block Development Officer (BDO) Ranjan Kumar Parida said the administration would review the current condition of the village and take necessary steps.

For now, the last family in Tankagadia waits — not just for development, but for recognition that they still exist.

SRI AUROBINDO

Korean Challenge

The people of South Korea have shown their maturity as votaries of democracy by recently gifting a landslide victory to presidential candidate Lee Jae-myung of the Democratic Party of Korea (DPK) who won the polls securing 49.42 per cent of the vote with a total voter turnout of 79.38 per cent. Lee assumes power with a solid popular mandate and comfortable control of the National Assembly. The election has brought to a close the period of uncertainty that began following a 6-month constitutional and political crisis stemming from former President Yoon Suk Yeol's short-lived imposition of martial law and subsequent impeachment. The victory marks a tremendous political comeback for Lee, who narrowly lost the previous presidential election by a mere 0.7 per cent to the now disgraced Yoon. Lee was at one point mired in five ongoing legal cases, one of which had put in doubt his eligibility to run for this election until the Constitutional Court's decision in late March in his favour. His win means the return to office of progressive political forces in South Korea that last held power in 2022. The transition, however, poses challenges for Lee as he has to tackle an unenviable backlog of domestic and foreign policy issues.

Lee Jae-myung has an interesting political background. He is the leader of the progressive DPK, a former National Assembly member and a two-time presidential candidate. He was mayor of Seongnam, governor of Gyeonggi Province. His rise to power culminating in his victory in the presidential election is a remarkable achievement for someone who grew up in a slum, south of Seoul, dropped out of middle school to work in sweatshops and worked as a human rights lawyer and labour activist for two decades before entering politics in 2005. It is almost a rags to riches story that places him in a unique position to understand the problems of the common man, the poor and also big wigs of industry.

He faces one of the most daunting challenges of any South Korean president since Kim Dae-jung was elected to office in the midst of Korea's liquidity crisis in 1997. In South Korea's financial crisis of 2004, recovery from the economic downturns relied on China's economic boom. In 2017, the country bounced back because of the South Korean semiconductor export boom. But no such favourable factors exist today. On the contrary, Lee now has to deal with problems arising out of the ongoing war in Ukraine and Gaza, US tariffs, Chinese export controls and North Korea-Russia relations. All of these militate against South Korea's economic recovery.

The Bank of Korea recently cut the 2025 growth forecast by almost half (from 1.5 per cent to 0.8 per cent). Furthermore, the global trade war between United States and China, Korea's two most important trading partners, has begun to hurt the Korean export-led economy, with total global exports and car exports down 1.3 per cent and 4.4 per cent respectively last month. Korean exports to the United States and China have been hit even harder, with each falling by about 8 per cent last month.

The interim government that preceded Lee made no progress in addressing problems emanating from the bevy of Trump tariffs, including the 10 per cent baseline tariffs, 25 per cent auto tariffs, 25 per cent auto parts tariffs and 25 per cent tariffs on imports from Mexico. South Korean trade negotiators under the interim government failed at winning tariff exemptions. With about a month before the 90-day tariff pause ends on 8 July, President Lee will find himself with little to no time to spare before tackling the most important task of his early presidency: reaching a deal with US President Donald Trump.

As Lee wants to project South Korea as a staunch supporter of an alliance with the United States, he may have a favourable response from President Trump on issues such as tariffs, potential troop withdrawals and the US' North Korea policy. The two are scheduled to meet on the sidelines of the ongoing G-7 summit.

At the same time, he has already declared he is not averse to improving relations with Japan and China. His balancing act in respect to China may force Trump to drag cold feet.

On the whole, Lee would have a lot on his plate in the coming months to steer his country out of the current crises, be it domestic or global.

WHEN A SMALL BANK COLLAPSES

FOCUS BANKING

A wholly-owned subsidiary of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) called the Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation (DICGC) insures all deposits in RBI-regulated banks up to a maximum of Rs 5 lakh per customer to protect savers in the event of a bank collapse. Now consider the latest bank collapse that has hurt some of the poorest and weakest depositors but has not made any waves, given that the bank is small, its network is limited, and the depositors carry no influence. This is the New India Cooperative Bank, an urban cooperative bank headquartered in Mumbai, which collapsed on 13 February, 2025, leaving its depositors, many of them auto or taxi drivers, small savers and sundry businesses like vegetable vendors, small stores and the like in the lurch. This is a multi-state scheduled bank with some 22 branches in Maharashtra and Gujarat, carrying a total of some 6,000 depositors who have no voice in a large banking system.

Jagdish Rattanani

AN ANNEXURE OF THE LIST OF BANK FAILURES CAME FROM DICGC. IT LISTED AS MANY AS 43 "BANK FAILURES" IN THE LAST THREE YEARS, ALL OF THEM COOPERATIVES

Small depositors, many of them senior citizens, queued up outside the bank, regulated by police, filled forms and sent in claims for their deposit insurance to kick in, all being assured that their moneys were secure and would be paid into another account by May 2025. But on 13 May, three months after they were barred from withdrawing money (and later allowed a maximum of Rs 25,000 per depositor) came a terse one-line announcement from DICGC. It read: "... the DICGC has extended the date on which it shall become liable to pay depositors of New India Co-operative Bank Limited, by a period of 90 days i.e. till August 12, 2025." There were no further references, explanations or elaboration of the circumstances under which the depositors were told to wait for three more months.

On one hand, the Indian

On one hand, the Indian banking system is said to be becoming more inclusive, and at another level, some of the poorest of depositors find themselves locked out of their lifetime savings in a collapse they can't understand banking system is said to be becoming more inclusive, and at another level, some of the poorest of depositors find themselves locked out of their lifetime savings in a collapse they can't understand. Take the statement just last fortnight by RBI deputy governor M Rajeshwar Rao, who while speaking at a summit in Mumbai on financial inclusion said: "RBI's financial inclusion index, which captures the extent of financial inclusion across the country ... has increased from 60.1 in March 2023 to 64.2 in March 2024, showing a Y-o-Y increase of 6.82 per cent."

This is a commendable big picture story that works well in the headline but turns into a horror story when it translates to the small picture of a small collapse that has taken with it the fortunes and lifetime earnings of ordinary citizens. The lack of official outrage, the unexplained slow pace and extended time span for deposit insurance to pay out the depositors and the shocking accounts of corruption emerging in the light of criminal investigations into the bank tell the story of an India that is collapsing in the nuts and bolts of its operations even as we may celebrate a big picture story of growth and inclusion. What is remarkable about the collapse is the bank's entirely unspectacular disappearance, as if nothing has happened, and the almost unnoticed devastating effect on the weakest in the system who have trusted the bank as a home-built institution to serve everyday workers. A 12,000-page chargesheet has been filed in the case but it brings little solace to depositors still waiting for their money. Police said some of the accused have fled the country.

The collapse of the urban co-operative bank is particularly painful because the institution traces its history to organising workers and has as its founding father none other than the late George Fernandes, the feisty trade union leader whose life was dedicated to fighting for the rights of those at the grassroots. Fernandes got together taxi drivers to form a bank when one of them was denied a loan by the "regular" banks in the days of what has come to be called the license-control-Raj. The bank became a place that welcomed unionised workers, auto drivers and small businesses who were then shunned by bigger banks. In the new, liberalised India, unions have long been disbanded or have at least lost their teeth, and the bank that was founded with the workers as its backbone has now been shredded and robbed, it would appear, by a bunch of insiders. Among the accused are members of the family of one of the founders, Ranjit Bhanu, an associate of Fernandes.

While it may be possible to explain the lack of governance in cooperative banks given their interlinkages to politicians, local area influence and slow adoption of modern systems, the RBI cannot escape responsibility for failing in its supervisory functions. These banks clearly need different if not more attention given that they are small, they take financial inclusion deep into the interior and they run on deposits from some of the weakest and poorest who have trusted the system. Recent times have seen a string of collapses, of which New India is only the latest, indicating structural and governance issues that the RBI has been unable or unwilling to address effectively.

An annexure of the list of bank failures came from DICGC. It listed as many as 43 "bank failures" in the last three years, all of them cooperatives.

It was some five years ago that SBI rescued Yes Bank, then the fourth largest private sector bank, on the idea that some institutions are "too big to fail" - which has its own problems in terms of the implicit guarantee it provides against recklessness or wrongdoing. It is true that spectacular failures carry the risk of spectacular after-effects on the economy. But the unspectacular failures, like the New India case is, drive a different kind of damage - almost unseen, unheard but no less disruptive in the way they erode the trust of the ordinary citizen in the entire edifice of the banking system and its regulatory framework.

Green crime goes global

In late 2024, Brazilian federal police dismantled a sprawling illegal gold mining network in Pará, exposing a criminal enterprise that stretched far beyond the rainforest. The operation, part of a broader crackdown on illicit mining in Indigenous territories, uncovered links to money laundering via shell companies and fraudulent permits, with funds traced to accounts in Dubai, Miami, and Panama.

During the raids, Brazilian authorities seized drones, encrypted phones, and fuel-laden barges - all tools of a well-financed transnational operation. The bust confirmed what researchers have warned about for years: environmental crime in the Amazon is now deeply entangled with global financial crime. The armed groups behind them are corrupting officials and increasingly operating at an industrial scale.

Environmental crime has become so extensive that it is reshaping the global policy agenda, evolving from a niche concern to an urgent topic of international diplomacy.

Environmental crimes are far more than a form of ecological vandalism. They can undermine national security, economic stability, and disrupt climate action and biodiversity protection. According to the Financial Action Task Force, environmental crimes such as illegal logging and mining, wildlife trafficking, and hazardous waste dumping generate annual revenues of up to $280 billion, exceeding the profits of human trafficking and the illegal arms trade.

These illicit markets are often tied to organized crime networks and, increasingly, to transnational money laundering and corruption schemes, connecting resource-rich regions of Africa, Asia, and Latin America with financial hubs in North America, Europe, and the Middle East.

The growing awareness of the transnational threats posed by environmental crime is reshaping international, regional, and national responses. At the COP16 in Colombia last year, several governments and regional organizations - including the Amazon Cooperation Treaty Organization and the Inter-American Development Bank - called attention to the relationships between environmental crime and biodiversity loss. And ahead of this year's COP30 in Brazil, illegal deforestation and associated crimes are emerging as a potential theme, given their implications for nature loss, carbon dioxide emissions, and global warming.

Meanwhile, the UN has intensified efforts to tackle environmental crime under its transnational crime prevention mandate. Efforts to combat forest crimes and wildlife trafficking have gained momentum over the past decade, especially since the 2015 Doha Declaration.

Several other intergovernmental institutions are also wading into these debates and looking for ways to counter environmental crimes. The BRICS grouping has tentatively identified environmental crime as a point of mutual concern and cooperation, following a 2021 meeting where member-state environment ministers explicitly acknowledged the threats posed by wildlife crime. Earlier this year, BRICS+ foreign ministers issued a statement highlighting the importance of tackling illicit financial flows connected to environmental crimes.

Of course, coordinating and reconciling these diverse international efforts poses a challenge. Fortunately, the UN Commission on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice is exploring ways to harmonize disparate agendas, including by linking environmental crime to the countering of illicit financial flows. Similarly, the BRICS+ summit in Rio de Janeiro in July, COP30 in Belém, and the G20 summit in November all offer promising entry points to align priorities and strategies.

In an era of geopolitical volatility and institutional drift, strategic coordination is essential to any effective global response to environmental gangsters.

Monsoon woes

Sir, Even as some parts of India are reeling under the onslaught of heatwaves, southwest monsoon has crippled lives in several parts of coastal Karnataka, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh and Kerala. The threat of flood looms large over numerous areas. Since these are the days of accurate IMD forecasts, it is high time state governments identify flood prone areas well in advance before the situation goes out of hand. Based on the weather forecasts people, especially those in the low lying regions, should be warned about the impending danger of massive water logging and floods. Methods of warning should be immaculate, repeated and reachable. Safe evacuation of people should be another major priority. Relief and rehabilitation cannot suffer due to oversight. Rehabilitation centres should be well stocked with all essential commodities. Additionally, landslide prevention mechanism should not escape the attention of governments.

Air travel safety

Sir, The recent accident of the Boeing 787-7 aircraft at Ahmedabad has sent shockwaves across the aviation sector and has shaken the faith of air-passengers worldwide. Though rare, such tragedies underline the importance of strict adherence to safety, efficient management and the need for better systems to prevent similar incidents in future. While investigations are still underway to determine the exact cause of the accident, some key lessons can be drawn, like strengthening pre-flight technical checks, continuous and updated pilot training, and engaging passengers more actively in safety awareness. Another important factor is 'Pilot fatigue', which is becoming a serious concern in air-travel. While regulations on flight duty time limitations and specific rest periods are in place, a more scientific approach as well as a better fatigue reporting system will help in tackling the silent danger of 'pilot fatigue' and ensure that pilots remain in peak condition. The Ahmedabad air crash is not only a heartbreaking event, but also a powerful call to action. It must be remembered that air travel safety is a shared endeavour, with each participant playing a crucial part in upholding the skies' sanctity.

Goans keep intact tradition of preserving wild veggies

take the Raan Bhaji festival out of Goa, showcasing the coastal state's rich forest legacy to the world. The monsoon season has already begun in Goa, and Raan Bhajis are becoming a part of the daily meals of people in Canacona taluka.

A PTI Videos team Saturday visited Canacona taluka where local resident Akshada Velip took them to a forest to forage for 'Teryachi Bhaji' and 'Talkilyachi Bhaji'. After trekking through the dense forest for some distance, they reached the hidden spots where these wild vegetables flourish. The locals possess an intimate knowledge of the land, knowing exactly where to find these natural treasures.

"We don't use oil while preparing these vegetables. They are cooked only with water, which makes them more tasty," Velip told the team members at her house where she prepared the vegetables for them.

Triphal (Sichuan Pepper), jackfruit seeds, dal and other grains add a nutritional value to these dishes, she explained.

Taikilo (Cassia Tora), Tero (Colocasia Esculenta), Shirmuddi (Celosia Argentea) and Piuchi Bhaji (Safed Musli) are usually found on the sides of paddy fields and deep in the forests, she added.

Bhaji festival, which will be held sometime in September this year, Tawadkar told PTI.

"In the olden days, villagers in Goa included wild vegetables in their diet. These are organic varieties, naturally found in forest areas and untouched by pesticides and fertilizers," Tawadkar said. "Life expectancy was higher in the earlier times. People used to consume vegetables according to seasons. There is a need to promote these vegetables today. You could say it is part of the BJP government's 'Fit India' initiative," he said.

These vegetables also have medicinal properties and are beneficial for people of all age groups, he said.

During the Raan Bhaji festival held in 2023 and 2024, it came to light that at least 40 different kind of wild vegetables are found in the forests of Goa, the 56-year-old legislator said.

The Sahyadri Hill ranges run through Goa's northeastern talukas, including Canacona, Sanguem, Quepem and Sattari, which serve as the key hub for wild vegetables.

Panaji, June 16: The Goa government is taking steps to preserve the old tradition of locals foraging for wild vegetables during the monsoon in the state's forests, aimed at protecting the cultural heritage and promoting sustainable food practices, officials said.

Backed by the government's initiative, Goa assembly speaker and Canacona MLA Ramesh Tawadkar has been spearheading a campaign to create awareness about the wild vegetables, popularly known as 'Raan Bhaji', in the coastal state.

Parsa East and Kanta Basan now Chhattisgarh's first solar-powered coal mine

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Raipur, June 16: The Parsa East and Kanta Basan (PEKB) coal mine, operated by Rajasthan Rajya Vidyut Utpadan Nigam Ltd (RRVUNL) in Chhattisgarh's Surguja district, has become the first mine in the state to function on solar energy.

According to an official statement, a 9-megawatt solar power plant in the mine was officially inaugurated Friday by Rajesh Agrawal, BJP MLA from Ambikapur, who switched on the panel board to mark its commissioning.

Spread across approximately 30 acres of reclaimed land within the mine premises, the plant stands as a major milestone in the use of renewable energy in the mining sector, it said.

The development contract for the mine was awarded to Adani Enterprises through a competitive bidding process by the Rajasthan government, it said.

Developed by Mundra Solar PV Limited, a subsidiary of Adani Green Energy Ltd, the 9 MW solar facility is expected to reduce nearly 400,000 tonnes of carbon emissions over the next 25 years, comparable to planting 2.5 million trees. The project reflects the Group's long-term commitment to sustainable mining operations and environmentally conscious energy practices, it said.

Located in the Udaipur block, PEKB mine plays a vital role in supporting local employment, infrastructure development, and long-term sustainability.

To date, over 1.568 million trees have been planted in the region. Additionally, more than 1,000 children are being provided free quality education in English-medium schools operated by the project, the release said.

PEKB is a crucial source of coal for electricity generation for nearly 80 million consumers in Rajasthan, it said.

Goa holds camps to fast-track forest rights claims of tribals

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Panaji, June 16: The Goa government Sunday organised camps across six talukas to assist tribal and forest-dwelling communities in resolving long-pending claims under the Scheduled Tribes and Other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights) Act, 2006.

Chief Minister Pramod Sawant recently announced that all pending cases under the Act would be disposed of by December 19. The day is celebrated to mark Goa's Liberation from 450-year-long Portuguese colonial rule. A government spokesman said 1,635 claimants participated in camps across six talukas and received assistance in filing and processing their claims.

"The presence of local tribal leaders, village-level forest rights committees, Gram Sabha members, and other key stakeholders ensured the initiative was both grassroots-driven and outcomes-focused," the spokesman said.

Sachin Tendulkar Foundation promises 50 playgrounds in Naxal-hit Dantewada

BUILDING DREAMS

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Dantewada, June 16: Dantewada in Chhattisgarh is shedding the tag of being a Naxal-affected district and is carving a new identity for itself as a sports hub thanks to the local administration's unique initiative supported by cricket legend Sachin Tendulkar's foundation.

With the Naxalite footprint gradually shrinking in the district, the administration has introduced 'Maidan Cup' in collaboration with the Mann Deshi Foundation and Sachin Tendulkar Foundation, under which 50 playgrounds will be developed in Dantewada to boost sports culture and talent.

"At least 20 playgrounds have been developed in the district so far with community participation as a part of the project, and by October, the target will be achieved," Dantewada collector Kunal Dudawat told PTI.

Last year, the state government organised the Bastar Olympics 2024 to promote sports talents from the Bastar region, comprising Dantewada and six other districts.

The idea was to connect sports talents of Naxal-affected and sensitive districts with the world through games, he said.

"Along these lines, we decided to introduce Maidan Cup to provide dedicated playgrounds to children and youth to further boost sports talents in collaboration with the Sachin Tendulkar Foundation and Mann Deshi Foundation," he said.

Dudawat said in the first phase, 50 playgrounds will be developed in as many villages, and it will be replicated in the entire district in the next phase.

The official said that 20 playgrounds have been developed with facilities for 13 different

PENCHANT FOR INNOVATIVE FARMING

Couple grows apples in Bilaspur plains

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bilaspur, June 16: A farmer couple from Bilaspur in Chhattisgarh has been successful in cultivating apples, which are traditionally grown in higher altitudes with cooler climates.

Jadunandan Verma (53), whose family has been cultivating vegetables and paddy, said his interest in innovation in agriculture drove him to explore new avenues rather than continue with conventional farming.

Verma and his wife Divya (47) have become the cynosure of all eyes in their native Malhar nagar panchayat in Masturi development block, with most farmers wanting to emulate their spirit of taking new paths.

"Paddy and vegetable cultivation are predominant in our region. My family was also doing the same. Gradually my interest in innovation in agriculture drove me towards exploring new avenues other than conventional farming. I started growing different vegetables on my land as intercrop farming, then moved on to litchi," Verma told PTI Videos.

"In 2021, I thought of growing a variety of apple that can be cultivated in the plains that see temperatures of up to 50 degrees Celsius. I started looking up Youtube videos. My maternal uncle had started apple farming in his village Birre in neighbouring Balodabazar district a year ahead of me but he could not get much success. I also took advice from him," he added.

Verma ordered 140 apple tree saplings, at Rs 350 each, from Himachal Pradesh in 2023, with sowing each of them on 60 'dismil' (decimal) land entailing an expenditure of Rs 700, he said.

"Villagers here did not believe it would work, and even I was apprehensive. However, I was confident that hard work pays off. Eventually, all were surprised when the saplings grew into trees and bore fruits. The 140 trees have produced 50-60 kilograms of apples.

A large part of distributed here, while some I sold in the local market for Rs 250 per kg," he said. Apples grown in the plains can sometimes be sour but the ones from his land have good taste, he said, adding it was giving him confidence that its cultivation will fetch him good returns in the years to come.

Verma did his schooling till Class VIII before completing Class X from open school, and

In recognition of their hard work and innovation, the couple was invited as special guests from Chhattisgarh in the Republic Day 2025 national celebrations in Delhi.

"This invite from the government of India made all my hard work worth it," Verma said with pride.

Malhar Nagar Panchayat chairperson Dhaneshwari Kaiwart said Verma has won many awards for innovation in agriculture and organic farming, with his apple cultivation now setting an example for others.

He has been felicitated by the prime minister and chief minister as well, Kaiwart added.

caste enumeration and asserted that some misleading information is being spread that there is no mention of caste census in the notification. "It has already been mentioned in the press releases dated 30 April, 4 June and 15 June, 2025 that census will also have caste enumeration," the spokesperson said.

CASTE CENSUS

Congress general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh said the much-touted gazette notification on the 16th census to be conducted in late 2026/early 2027 has just been issued and is a "damp squib".

"It is quite a damp squib and merely repeats what had already been announced April 30, 2025," Ramesh said on X. He further said that it is entirely because of the persistence and insistence of the Congress that Prime Minister Narendra Modi "surrendered" to the demand for a caste census. "He (Modi) had called Congress leaders as urban Naxals for making this demand. Both in Parliament and in the Supreme Court, the Modi Government had rejected the very idea of a caste census - which it announced 47 days back," Ramesh said.

"Today's Gazette Notification is, however, SILENT on the inclusion of caste in the 16th Census. Is this yet another U-turn by the ustad of U-turns? Or will details be announced later?" he said.

The Congress firmly believes that the 16th census must adopt the Telangana model for not just caste enumeration but also bringing out detailed data information on socio-economic parameters caste-wise, he asserted.

Later, Ramesh also hit out at the BJP for accusing the Congress of always deceiving and betraying the Other Backward Classes following the Karnataka government's decision to junk an earlier caste survey in favour of a fresh count.

Ramesh told PTI that if one looks at history it would be very uncomfortable for the RSS and the BJP, which withdrew support to the V P Singh government on the Mandal Commission issue in August 1991, and started the 'Kamandal agitation'. The Congress leader also claimed that the RSS had opposed the Constitution of India, back in November 1949.

The government Monday issued a notification for conducting India's 16th census in 2027, 16 years after the last such exercise in 2011.

The census will be carried out with a reference date of October 1, 2026 in snow-bound areas like Ladakh and March 1, 2027 in the rest of the country, the notification said.

Air India crash: Govt constituted high-level committee meets

The panel, chaired by Union Home Secretary Govind Mohan, listened to the opinions of various stakeholders about the possible causes of the air crash and deliberated on steps to be taken to check future occurrence of any such accident

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi/Ahmedabad, June 16: A high-level multi-disciplinary committee, set up by the government to look into the Ahmedabad plane crash, Monday deliberated on various possible theories that could have led to the country's worst air disaster in decades.

The panel, chaired by Union Home Secretary Govind Mohan, listened to the opinions of various stakeholders about the possible causes of the air crash and deliberated on steps to be taken to check future occurrence of any such accident, sources said.

In the first meeting of the panel here, the sources said, the focus of the participants was to analyse the possible causes of the air crash and how to go about in "formulating Standard Operating Procedures for preventing such occurrences in the future". Tata Sons and Air India Chairman N Chandrasekaran on Monday told the airline staff to use the plane crash in Ahmedabad as an "act of force" to build a "safer airline", as a high-level government panel held its first meeting to probe the possible causes of the air disaster.

Since a separate investigation is also being carried out by the Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau (AAIB), which is looking into the technical aspects of the crash, the panel discussed about the possible causes and lesson to be taken from it, the sources said.

Civil Aviation Minister K Ramamohan Naidu Saturday said while the AAIB investigation will handle the technical aspects, the high-level committee will provide a holistic, policy-oriented roadmap for future safeguards.

Those who attended the meeting on Monday include representatives from the Ministry of Civil Aviation, Home Ministry, Indian Air Force, Intelligence Bureau, Gujarat government, Directorate General of Civil Aviation, and Bureau of Civil Aviation Security, among others.

Rapido rider slaps woman passenger over rash driving

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Bangalore, June 16: A Rapido bike taxi rider was caught on camera for allegedly slapping a woman passenger following an argument between them over rash driving, police said Monday.

The incident occurred on Saturday when the woman, who works as a saleswoman at a jewellery shop in Jayanagar, was en route to her workplace, they said. Owing to his alleged rash driving, she got off mid-ride and confronted him, leading to a heated argument between them. The woman reportedly also refused to pay the fare and return the helmet, police said.

When contacted, Rapido preferred not to comment on the matter, citing it as a police case. A video of the incident that has now gone viral on social media platforms showed the biker slapping the woman. The impact of the assault was such that she fell on the ground.

According to the police, when the matter came to light, both the woman and the rider were brought to Jayanagar police station. The woman claimed that the rider was driving rashly and jumped signals. When she questioned him, an argument broke out between them and he slapped her, a senior police officer said. Despite persuading the woman, she refused to give a complaint. However, police filed a Non-Cognizable Report (NCR) in the matter. A notice has also been sent to her to give a complaint, so that an FIR can be registered and further investigation can be carried out, he said.

Man holds symbolic wedding with deceased fiancée

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

Maharajanj (UP), June 16: In an unusual gesture, a 29-year-old man Monday performed a symbolic wedding with his deceased fiancée just hours before her funeral in Uttar Pradesh's Maharajanj district.

The woman, identified as Priyanka Madhesia (23), allegedly committed suicide at her residence last night. Priyanka, who allegedly hanged herself, had an argument with this man named Sunny Madhesia.

The woman's family has, however, not lodged any police complaint yet. As the mourning family members and villagers gathered earlier in the day in Krishna Nagar locality of Nichloul to prepare for the woman's last rites, the atmosphere turned surreal when Sunny stepped forward with vermilion (sindoor) in his hand.

Amid chanting of mantras led by a local priest, he solemnly applied sindoor on the deceased woman's forehead and walked seven ritualistic circles around her bier in front of stunned onlookers, including women, who captured the episode on their mobile phones.

"This was my way of fulfilling her last wish...I loved her very much," said Sunny after performing the symbolic wedding. "We were going to get married in November. Even though she is no more, I wanted to make her my wife the way we had both dreamt," he added.

The symbolic marriage was performed with full Hindu rituals, including an offering of 'aarti'. Sunny later lit the funeral pyre, a role typically reserved for the spouse or a close male relative of the deceased.

The local police confirmed the rare sequence of events. Nichloul Police Station SHO Akhilesh Kumar Verma said the symbolic marriage was carried out with the consent of both families.

"It was a mutual decision. Sunny also expressed his wish to organize her 13th-day death ritual (terahvin), which traditionally concludes the mourning period," Verma told PTI. Sunny and Priyanka had been in a relationship for over three years. Sunny, who had first met Priyanka when he moved in as a tenant in her home, later opened a mobile repair and accessories shop in the area and continued to live nearby.

The relationship was accepted by both families and the couple was formally engaged. The wedding was scheduled for November 29, 2025. The Station House Officer (SHO) said that a minor argument, however, broke out between the couple Sunday evening. Priyanka, who was found hanging in her room later that night, was rushed to the Community Health Centre in Nichloul, where doctors declared her dead on arrival, he added. No formal complaint has been lodged by the family regarding Priyanka's death, police said.

No rules, no rides: HC grounds bike taxis in K'taka

Bangalore, June 16: Bike taxi services operated by app-based aggregators came to a standstill in Karnataka Monday following the High Court's directive to suspend operations. Complying with the order, bike taxi options were removed from ride-hailing apps such as Ola, Uber and Rapido. Karnataka Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy confirmed the development, stating that the companies must abide by the court's decision. "Three months ago, the court ruled that bike taxis are illegal. It initially gave six weeks, and then another six weeks on request. Now that 12 weeks have passed, the aggregators must follow the High Court order," Reddy told PTL.

On Friday, a division bench of the Karnataka High Court refused to stay an earlier single-judge order that suspended bike taxi services in the state. The division bench, comprising Acting Chief Justice V Kameshwar Rao and Justice Sreenivas Harish Kumar, was hearing appeals filed by Uber India Systems Pvt Ltd, ANI Technologies Pvt Ltd (which operates Ola), and Roppen Technologies Services Pvt Ltd (which operates Rapido), among others. The companies had challenged the April 2 ruling that directed them to halt bike taxi services within six weeks. The deadline was later extended till June 15. The single judge had observed that such services cannot operate unless the state government notifies specific rules and guidelines under the Motor Vehicles Act. The division bench noted that it would have considered granting a stay on the order if the state had indicated progress in drafting the rules. However, the government stated that it had taken a policy decision not to frame such regulations, leading the court to deny relief to the aggregators. The bench issued notices to the state government and other respondents, setting the next hearing for June 24. Meanwhile, Ola Uber Drivers

The company reiterated its commitment to working with the government and Transport Department to develop a regulatory framework that is "compliant, sustainable, and future-ready." "Our priority is to protect the interests of gig workers while ensuring commuter safety. We are actively pursuing all avenues to support our captains and hope our dialogue with the government leads to a viable policy, as seen in several other states and union territories," Rapido added. Uber also confirmed the suspension of its bike taxi services from June 16.

Tehran rings Trump for truce

Tel Aviv/Dubai, June 16: Iran called on US President Donald Trump Monday to force Israel to cease fire as the only way to end the four-day-old aerial war, while Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said his country was on the "path to victory".

Israeli forces stepped up their bombardment of Iranian cities, while Iran proved capable of piercing Israeli air defences with one of its most successful volleys yet of retaliatory missile strikes.

"If President Trump is genuine about diplomacy and interested in stopping this war, next steps are consequential," Iran's Foreign Minister Abbas Araqchi said on X.

Sources told Reuters that Tehran had asked Qatar, Saudi Arabia and Oman to press Trump to use his influence on Israel to agree to an immediate ceasefire. In return, Iran would show flexibility in nuclear negotiations, said the two Iranian and three regional sources.

Netanyahu told Israeli troops at an air base that Israel was on its way to achieving its two main aims: wiping out Iran's nuclear programme and destroying its missiles.

Judge dismisses juror over protests by lawyers for Sean 'Diddy' Combs

REUTERS

New York, June 16: A Black juror was dismissed from Sean "Diddy" Combs' sex trafficking trial Monday, despite defense objections that the dismissal would reduce the racial diversity of the panel determining the hip-hop mogul's fate.

US District Judge Arun Subramanian said the juror's inconsistent answers to questions about where he lived raised questions about his honesty and could taint a verdict.

Subramanian said he took defense concerns about race seriously — Combs is Black — but could not take into account that the Black male juror would be replaced by a white male, who had been an alternate juror.

"The court should not, indeed cannot, allow race to enter into its consideration," Subramanian said outside the jury's presence, as the sixth week of Combs' trial got underway in Manhattan federal court.

The jury is anonymous, which is common for high-profile trials where jurors could face threats or harassment if their identities were known.

Subramanian said the jury was "diverse." Combs has pleaded not guilty to racketeering and sex trafficking charges. Prosecutors say he coerced women over two decades to take part in drug-fueled sexual performances with male sex workers, sometimes known as "Freak Offs." The defense says the sexual activity described by prosecutors was consensual.

Trade gap narrows to $21.88bn

Imports declined 1.7 per cent year-on-year to $60.61 billion during the month under review due to fall in the inbound shipments of gold and crude oil

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 16: After registering a positive growth for two months, India's exports slipped into negative territory again, contracting 2.17 per cent year-on-year to $38.73 billion in May due to a fall in global petroleum prices, while trade deficit narrowed at $21.88 billion during the month.

According to government data released Monday, imports declined 1.7 per cent year-on-year to $60.61 billion during the month under review due to fall in the inbound shipments of gold and crude oil. Cumulatively, during April-May 2025-26, exports increased by 3.11 per cent to $77.19 billion, while imports rose by 8 per cent to $125.52 billion.

The trade deficit was $48.33 billion. The dip in exports and imports narrowed the trade deficit – the difference between the value of imports and exports in May. It was $22.51 billion in the same month last year. It was $26.42 billion in April.

The fall in merchandise shipments can be attributed to increasing global uncertainties. The Iran-Israel war could further dampen the prospects. The commerce ministry is holding an inter-ministerial meeting along with stakeholders this week to discuss what can emerge out of this conflict.

The main export sectors which recorded negative growth during the month included rice, iron ore, gems and jewellery, engineering, and certain textile segment goods. Exports of petroleum products declined by 30.32 per cent to $5.6 billion in May.

Similarly, crude oil and gold imports decreased by 26.14 per cent and 12.6 per cent to $14.75 billion and $2.5 billion, respectively.

However, exports of tea, coffee, spices, and ready-made garments of all textiles, chemicals, marine products, and pharma have registered positive growth. Electronic goods' shipments rose 54.1 per cent to $45.7 billion in May.

Briefing the media on the data, Commerce Secretary Sunil Barthwal said that despite global uncertainties, India is doing well on the exports front. During the last two months, crude oil prices have dipped and it has a "dampening" impact on exports, he added.

"If you look at the global picture...we are doing much better than the global average," Barthwal said, adding, like last year, the ministry would focus on 20 countries and six sectors.

"We have been in touch with our Missions. We are strengthening our Missions. Currently, all the commerce ministry posts in Missions have been filled up so that there can be a better thrust on trade," he added.

The secretary also said that the ministry is actively pursuing three free trade agreements (FTAs) with the UK (soon to be signed), European Union and US. Talks are on with New Zealand, Peru and Chile.

Mithileshwar Thakur, Secretary General at AEPCC (Apparel Export Promotion Council), said that exports have been keeping the momentum and registering an impressive double-digit growth during this fiscal so far.

The growth in exports to US, UK, Germany, Spain, Italy, Netherlands, coupled with impressive performance in countries like Australia, Japan, Korea, Mauritius, has kept the spirit high.

At the services front, the exports for May are estimated at $32.39 billion as compared to $29.61 billion in May 2024. Imports, on the other hand, rose to $17.14 billion as against $16.88 billion same months last year.

WPI inflation dips to 14-month low

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 16: Wholesale price inflation (WPI) declined to a 14-month low of 0.39 per cent in May on easing prices of food articles and fuel, and experts said geopolitical tensions could push up prices.

WPI-based inflation was 0.85 per cent in April. It was 2.74 per cent in May last year.

In a statement, the industry ministry said the inflaton in May is in positive zone primarily due to "increase in prices of manufacture of food products, electricity, other manufacturing, chemicals and chemical products, manufacture of other transport equipment and non-food articles". According to the WPI data, food articles saw a deflation of 1.56 per cent in May, against a deflation of 0.86 per cent in April, with vegetables, onion, potato and pulses seeing negative inflation.

Deflation in vegetables was 21.62 per cent in May, compared to 18.26 per cent in April. Fuel and power, too, saw a deflation of 2.27 pc in May, compared to a 2.18 per cent inflation in April.

Manufactured products, however, saw positive inflation at 2.04 per cent, compared to 2.62 per cent in April. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) mainly takes into account retail inflation while formulating monetary policy. Data released last week showed retail inflation eased to over six-year low of 2.82 per cent in May mainly due to subdued food prices. The RBI this month cut benchmark policy interest rates by a sharp 0.50 per cent to 5.50 per cent amid easing inflation. RBI has cut inflation projections for the current fiscal year to 3.7 per cent from the earlier estimate of 4 per cent, as it expects core inflation to remain benign with the easing of international commodity prices.

The sub-4 per cent average retail inflation projection is the lowest in recent years. ICRA Senior Economist Rahul Agrawal said the cooling in WPI was broad-based, with the food, non-food manufacturing, minerals, and fuel and power segments contributing to the dip in headline print between these months.

ICRA said crude oil prices have risen quite sharply in the ongoing month, following escalation of tensions between Israel and Iran. The price of the Indian basket of crude oil has averaged 4.3 per cent higher on a month-on-month basis during June 1-13 after contracting continuously since February. Moreover, the extent of the year-on-year deflation in such prices has also narrowed in the month, relative to May 2025.

"Higher crude oil prices, along with some depreciation in INR relative to USD, would impart upward pressure on the WPI inflation print for June 2025," Agarwal said.

Beauty mogul, Leonard Lauder dies at 92

AGENCIES

Washington, June 16: Leonard A. Lauder, the art patron and philanthropist who with his mother, Estée Lauder, built a family cosmetics business into a worldwide juggernaut that supplied generations of women with the creams, colors and scents of eternal youth, died Saturday.

Lauder joined the company in 1958 and played a key role in transforming the business from a handful of products sold under a single brand in US stores to a multi-brand cosmetics giant. The death was announced by the Estée Lauder Companies.

While best known for his business enterprises, he was also one of America's most influential philanthropists and art patrons. During his journey, he gave hundreds of millions to museums, medical institutions, and breast cancer and Alzheimer's research, as well as to other cultural, scientific and social causes. His art collections ranged from postcards to Picassos.

In 2013, he pledged the most significant gift in the history of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, a trove of nearly 80 Cubist paintings, drawings and sculptures by Picasso, Braque, Léger and Gris. Scholars put the value of the gift at $1 billion and said its quality rivaled or surpassed that of the collections of the Museum of Modern Art in New York, the State Hermitage Museum in St. Petersburg, Russia, and the Pompidou Center in Paris.

"Throughout his life, my father worked tirelessly to build and transform the beauty industry, pioneering many of the innovations, trends, and best practices that are foundational to the industry today," said William P. Lauder, son and Chair, Board of Directors, The Estée Lauder Companies.

In a business reliant on imagery and mythmaking, his mother, the daughter of a Queens merchant, had created a genteel Hungarian aristocratic past for herself and a name to go with it. Josephine Esther Lauder, the wife of a luncheonette owner, thus became the glamorous Estée Lauder.

"My dream," he wrote in his memoir, "The Company I Keep: My Life in Beauty," published in 2020, "was to make Estée Lauder the General Motors of the beauty business, with multiple brands, multiple product lines and multinational distribution."

SBI reduces interest rates

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 16: State Bank of India (SBI) has reduced its lending rate by 50 basis points following the Reserve Bank's policy rate cut, making loans cheaper for both existing and new borrowers.

Early rains dampen fuel demand growth in June

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi June 16: Early rains in several parts of the country declined fuel consumption in June, with diesel slipping to negative territory again after two months of growth, as per provisional industry data.

After two months of robust consumption growth, petrol demand slowed to 2.3 per cent to 1.4 million tonnes in the first half of June, sales data of three state-owned fuel retailers, which control about 90 per cent of the market, showed.

Petrol demand had risen by close to 9 per cent in May. Diesel saw a 4.8 per cent decline in consumption at 3.26 million tonnes between June 1 and June 15.

The demand for India's most used fuel has rebounded since April - rising by nearly 4 per cent in April and 2 per cent in the following month. Diesel, the lifeline of transport and rural agrif economy, saw a just 2 per cent growth in demand in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2025, witnessing a negative growth in most months.

Industry officials said early arrival of rains led to reduced demand in irrigation while also dampening vehicular movement. The India Meteorological Department (IMD) declared the monsoon onset over Kerala May 24, eight days earlier than the usual June 1 date. This early arrival triggered widespread rains across several states, including Karnataka, Maharashtra and the North-East.

Petrol sales in the first half of June were 7 per cent lower than 1.5 million tonnes consumption during May 1-15. Its consumption was up 7 per cent when compared with the same

Arrival of rains led to reduced demand in irrigation while also dampening vehicular movement per cent below the first half of May 2025. It however was 9.5 per cent higher than June 2021, when restrictions imposed to curb spread of Covid-19 virus had reduced economic activity.

The growth in both petrol and diesel sales in April and May this year was on the back of rise in consumption for electioneering last year.

Jet fuel (ATF) consumption grew 3.1 per cent to 328,900 tonnes in June 1-15 this year.

ATF sales were 8.4 per cent higher than consumption in May 1-15, 2023 and 12 per cent over June 1-15, 2021. Month-on-month, ATF consumption was however nearly 2 per cent lower.

LPG continued to be in the fast lane with 4 per cent growth to 1.27 million tonnes in June 1-15, driven by Ujjwala connections. Since 2019, the fuel consumption has risen at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 37 per cent.

Cooking gas sales were 6 per cent lower than 1.35 million tonnes consumption of May 1-15. Its usage was 10.7 per cent more than consumption in May 1-15, 2023 and 32.6 per cent higher than June 1-15, 2021, the data showed.

BCCI to hold additional bone test in jr cricket

New Delhi: In a significant move, the BCCI has decided to conduct an additional bone test at the junior level to ensure that no cricketer misses out on playing an extra season due to the "+1 factor" that is currently added to the calculation, which renders players ineligible by thinnest of margins. As per the existing norms, a player undergoes a bone test for age determination via the TW3 method (test used for assessing bone age) and a +1 factor is added to determine his or her eligibility for the next season in the same age group. However, with the rule change, a cricketer in the Under-16 boys' category, will undergo a second bone test the following season to determine his eligibility to appear in the same age bracket in case the +1 factor rules him out in the previous year. "It is being done to have an exact age and make sure that no player loses due to arithmetical calculation rather than scientific calculation," a BCCI source told PTI. The bone age cut-off for U-16 boys is 16.5 years and 15 years for U-15 girls competition.

Women's ODI WC: India to face Pak at Colombo

Dubai: India's marquee Women's ODI World Cup match against Pakistan will be held at the national venue of R Premadasa Stadium in Colombo October 5, the ICC announced Monday. However, India will kick off their campaign against Sri Lanka at Bangalore September 30, and will also face Bangladesh October 26 at the M Chinnaswamy Stadium, dispelling the rumours of the venue losing hosting rights of the matches after the recent stampede during the Royal Challengers Bengaluru victory celebrations. EFI mess out in open

Bank account frozen, FEI cancels equestrian events in India due to non-payment of dues

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 16: In a development that will hurt the riders and the development of equestrian sport in the country, at least 24 domestic and international tournaments have been cancelled due to non-payment of dues to the world governing body, FEI, by the Equestrian Federation of India (EFI).

It has been learnt that EFI was supposed to pay about Rs 27 lakh to the FEI officials as remuneration and allied charges for various events held between January and March 2025.

However, the federation's account stands frozen due to the infighting among the warring factions, leading to non-payments of dues, forcing International Equestrian Federation (FEI) to take off the events from the calendar.

The EFI also needs to settle accounts for unpaid salaries, various costs of tournaments hosted in the past year and other expenses running into almost two crore.

"EFI was supposed to pay remuneration to FEI officials for various Eventing, Show Jumping and Dressage events held in Delhi, Meerut, and Jaipur. However, the bank has frozen the account due to different factions within the Federation claiming operational access," an EFI source told PTI.

"It is embarrassing and the athletes are the biggest losers here, but that is the situation. The sports ministry has been apprised of the latest infighting," the source added.

What led to the mess?

The EFI was supposed to hold its election in September 2023 but litigations delayed the polls, following which a Committee of Administrators (CoA) was appointed by the Delhi High Court May 21, 2024.

The decision was challenged and, May 29, the court reinstated the Executive Committee of the EFI as an interim measure, keeping in mind the participation of Indian riders in the Paris Olympics.

The EC, in a meeting on April 11, 2025, without the presence of court-appointed observer SY Quraishi, decided to suspend Colonel Jaiveer Singh as secretary general of the Federation. Quraishi directed the EC to get the order approved from the court before its implementation. Colonel SS Ahlawat moved the court May 5, seeking approval. However, the application was rejected May 7 since the decision was not conforming to the law.

"The faction that removed the secretary general notified the development to FEI and also claimed the ownership of the bank account before getting the approval of the court. The bank then froze the account due to multiple stakes," the source said.

When contacted, Colonel Jaiveer Singh confirmed the development.

"If you read the EFI statutes, the constitution says that the General Assembly, by a two-thirds majority of votes, can terminate from the Federation any member of the Executive Committee, Selection Committee, Athletes' Commission, and other sub-committees for gross misconduct or for activities contrary to the interests and objectives of the EFI. They decided on my removal without calling the General Assembly. It had to be rejected by the court. Moreover, they attached the plea with an old case that does not stand now," Jaiveer told PTI.

Events cancelled

FEI Secretary General February 11, 2025, had written to the EFI that it was cancelling the Eventing event that was to be held February 24-28 in Meerut.

EFI was supposed to clear the dues by February 7 but due to non-payment, FEI proceeded with the cancellation of the event. FEI made it clear that EFI will have to pay in advance for future events, and failure to comply will result in cancellation of future events.

Till June 16, 2025 EFI has lost 12 events, including a workshop on Para Dressage, and is set to lose 12 more till mid-October.

These include the Para Dressage World Challenge in Bangalore (Oct 10-12), World Dressage (Oct 8-9 in Bangalore), and FEI Jumping (CDS Jul 24-27 in Bangalore). Asked how come EFI has not paid salaries and other expenses from the past when the bank account froze only recently, the source said, "You are right. The AGM held on August 18, 2024, had approved the budget and calendar, but the EC chose not to pay it."

"We really need an intervention of the Sports Ministry here. Unless they do something about it and fresh elections are held, the mess is not going to clear."

Strong finish helps India double Munich WC haul

The tournament saw India register their third top-three finish this year in four World Cups, with two gold and as many bronze medals

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA

New Delhi, June 16: A string of consistent final appearances and two gold medals powered India to a commendable third-place finish at the recently-concluded World Cup in Munich, one of the most prestigious and challenging tournaments on the ISSF's annual calendar.

The tournament saw India register their third top-three finish this year in four World Cups, with two gold and as many bronze medals.

The team not only improved its standing from joint third last year, but also doubled its medal count, including the number of gold.

"The Munich World Cup which is an annual feature of the International Shooting calendar and is held at the revered Olympic Shooting range, which hosted the sport at the 1972 Munich Olympics, has once again brought out the best in our rifle and pistol shooters," said K Sultan Singh, Secretary General, National Rifle Association of India (NRAI).

He added, "When many were saying and quite rightly so, that India will find it very tough given the large field, quality of competition and the fact that some of our best were not part of the squad, our athletes have proven that the depth in Indian shooting is more formidable than ever before."

The high point for India at Munich this year, as also of this whole international season, has been the stunning consistency of rising women's pistol star Suruchi Singh.

The Haryana teenager won an unprecedented third consecutive individual ISSF World Cup stage gold in the women's 10m air pistol, two months after a memorable debut in Buenos Aires. She went where no Indian has ever gone before.

The other highlight was Arya Borse and Olympian Arjun Babuta's tremendous win over the Chinese world record holders Sheng Lihao and Wang Zifei, the former also the Olympic champion in the event, in the 10m air rifle mixed team final, where they completely out-gunned their opponents 17-7.

With some incredible and consistent series of high scores,

On behalf of the NRAI, I congratulate the entire squad including the coaches and support staff, for the amazing results, not only in Munich, but throughout the year they showcased the depth and new found confidence in Indian shooting.

Elavenil Valarivan (women's 10m air rifle), a two-time Olympian, and Sift Kaur Samra (50m rifle 3 positions women), Olympian and world record holder, also reinforced their status as world-class shooters with their bronze-winning performances in Munich.

Elavenil also set a new qualifications national record of 635.9 en route to her bronze while Suruchi equalled Manu Bhaker's qualifications national mark of 588 in the women's air pistol.

In keeping with the trend this year, Indian World Cup debutants also delivered encouraging performances in strong fields.

Ananya Naidu shot a solid 632.4 to finish 13th in women's 10m air rifle, while Nishant Rawat (10m air pistol men) and Aditya Malra (air pistol men) shot scores of 582 and 578 to finish 10th and 27th respectively.

India made a total of seven finals in the 10 events in Munich with Bhaker (women's 25m pistol), Varun Tomar (men's 10m air pistol) and Chain Singh (men's 3P) making the cut.

China finished on top of the standings with seven medals including four gold while Norway edged India to second on the basis of having won a silver with the same number of golds and medals as India.

A total of 11 nations including the individual neutral athletes group won medals in Munich.

The ISSF bandwagon will move to Lonato Del Garda in Italy next month for the year's fourth Shotgun World Cup stage, while the fourth and final rifle/pistol World Cup is scheduled for Ningbo in China in September.

Ruthless PSG crush Atletico Madrid

AGENCE FRANCE-PRESSE

Pasadena, June 16: Paris Saint-Germain laid down an ominous marker on their march towards global domination at the FIFA Club World Cup Sunday as Bayern Munich showed no mercy to Auckland's amateurs with a ruthless 10-0 walloping.

The first full day of action at the inaugural edition of the 32-team club tournament saw newly crowned European champions PSG produce a scintillating 4-0 rout of Atletico Madrid after Bayern's double-digit drubbing of Auckland City.

The New Zealand minnows are one of the Cinderella stories of the tournament, made up of amateur players who had to take unpaid leave to travel to the United States.

But Bundesliga Goliaths Bayern were in no mood to indulge the Davids from the Oceania region, and duly ran riot in Cincinnati.

Jamal Musiala scored a second-half hat-trick after coming off the bench while Kingsley Coman, Michael Olise and Thomas Mueller all netted twice.

Sacha Boey scored the other goal in a Group C game that amounted to target practice for Bayern, who will face tougher tests ahead in the tournament against Boca Juniors and Benfica.

"We have to remain modest but it was important to be able to say that we took the game seriously," said Bayern coach Vincent Kompany. "It was a good first match at the tournament, but of course challenges are going to grow and it's going to become more difficult."

While Bayern were left satisfied with a clinical opening, PSG delivered a statement win over Atleti in front of an 80,619 crowd at a sun-baked Pasadena Rose Bowl -- the venue for the 1994 World Cup final.

RPL Season 1: Chennai Bulls lead table

Bengaluru Bravehearts win big against Kalinga Black Tigers

INDO-ASIAN NEWS SERVICE

Mumbai, June 16: Both the Chennai Bulls and Bengaluru Bravehearts had a superb day on the field, on a rainy Monday, as they registered comprehensive wins in their games during Season 1 of the Rugby Premier League, here at the Shahaji Raje Bhosale Sports Complex.

The Chennai Bulls defeated Mumbai Dreamers on the second successive day to win two out of two and lead the points table, while the Bravehearts are second, with one win and a draw.

In the first match of the day, the Bengaluru Bravehearts were in superb form and stormed past the Kalinga Black Tigers, winning the game 35-10.

However, it wasn't an easy start for the Bravehearts, as the Kalinga Black Tigers went ahead in the first quarter through Lucas Lacamp's try. After that, the Bravehearts cranked up the style and turned the game on its head as Philip Wokorach scored two tries, and the troika of Akuila Rokolisoa, Iowane Teba, and Mohit Khatri added a try each as well.

Whilst the Kalinga Black Tigers failed to convert any of their kicks, the Bravehearts were able to place their with-in the goalposts, to pick up an additional ten points. Philip Wokorach, Iowane Teba (three kicks), and Akuila Rokolisoa were the kicktakers for the Bravehearts, who eventually won at a canter. The Bravehearts are now unbeaten in their opening two games, having drawn the first and won the second.

In Match 2 on the day, the Chennai Bulls took on the Mumbai Dreamers and overcame the challenge with relative ease. The Bulls won comfortably with the score at 31-17. The Bulls were out of the blocks faster than their opponents, and pretty much kept the Mumbai Dreamers at arm's length.

However, in the final quarter, the Dreamers got into their act and attempted what could have been a comeback for the ages, before the Bulls nipped it in the bud with a fine counter-attack in the final minutes of the contest.

For the Bulls, Vaafauese Maliko and Joseva Talacolo scored a couple of tries each, and Filipe Sauturaga added another. Joaquin Pellandini then had two chances to score his kicks, and Filipe Sauturaga added another couple of points to the tally.

Montreal, June 16: George Russell celebrated Mercedes' first win of the Formula One season in Canada Sunday while McLaren's Oscar Piastri went 22 points clear in the championship after teammate Lando Norris smashed into him and retired.

Red Bull's Max Verstappen, who had hoped to win for a record fourth year in a row at Montreal's Circuit Gilles Villeneuve, had to settle for second after a challenge fizzed out behind the safety car.

Russell's 18-year-old rookie teammate Kimi Antonelli finished third for his first F1 podium and the first by an Italian since 2009.

Piastri was fourth, with the safety car leading the final lap before peeling off to clear the way for Russell to take the chequered flag.

"Well done team. That made up for last year," said Russell, who also started on pole in 2024 but finished third. His last win before Sunday was in Las Vegas in November. "It's amazing to be back on the top step. I felt last year was a victory lost and probably got the victory today due to the incredible pole lap yesterday."

Piastri now has 198 points ahead of Norris on 176, with Verstappen on 155 with Russell on 136.

In the constructors' standings Mercedes moved up to second, ahead of Ferrari and 175 points behind McLaren.

The Briton, whose broken car stopped by the side of the

"I'm sorry. All my bad. All my fault. Stupid from me," Norris said over the team radio.

Piastri pitted as the safety car was deployed and rejoined with a tyre advantage over Antonelli that he could not use as the racing never resumed.

"Glad I didn't ruin his race. In the end apologies to the team. In Norris told Sky Sports television. "This wasn't even like a 'that's racing', it was just silly from my part."
